A Female Convict Escapes.
RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 11.—A negro female convict who was serving a second term in the penitentiary made a daring and sensational escape Monday. She is from Cumberland county and her offence was robbery. Her robberies had, in fact, been numerous, and as she wore men's clothing, her detection and capture were difficult. She was one of a gang of twenty negro women at work in the penitentiary garden, which is not surrounded by a stockade. There was only one guard, and the guard house was not present. The woman was missed a few minutes after work was begun. There is so far no trace of her.

THE ANARCHISTS' PLOT.

Claim That There was a General Assassination Conspiracy.

Alleged Conference Between Emma Goldman, Czolgosz, and Others. The Reported Confession of the Man Who Shot the President.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The special correspondent of the "New York Herald" at Buffalo sends the following story tending to show that the conspiracy to kill the President extended to all the prominent groups of anarchists in the United States.

Leon F. Czolgosz has confessed to the police that his attempt upon the life of President McKinley was the result of a conspiracy in which many besides himself had taken part. He is positive that Czolgosz has refused to mention any name except that of Emma Goldman, but papers are in existence which, if they can be discovered, will lay bare the entire conspiracy, and will result in wholesale arrests, followed by prosecutions.

Acting under instructions from Secretary Root, the police still refuse the details of the confession made by Czolgosz, but in Superintendent Bull's office last night it was told that if the would-be assassin's confession were published in full a wave of indignation against anarchism of the organized sort would sweep over the country, which would inevitably result in serious disorders.

While Czolgosz retains his show of bravado, he announces his determination of entering a plea of guilty when he is brought to trial. He said that he knows full well that he is at the mercy of society, which he detests, for which reason he will make no fight in court, but will enter as soon as possible upon his punishment.

Society may well congratulate itself that the life of Czolgosz was not stamped out by the frenzied mob that sought to kill him a moment after he had fired the second bullet at President McKinley. Had he been killed, the death of the would-be assassin would have been no way of bringing his accomplices to justice. It is now practically assured that at least a modicum of justice will be meted out to those who, with Czolgosz, sought the overthrow of law and order.

Although Emma Goldman has been arrested in Chicago, it is probable that she will be brought to Buffalo for trial. The center of the conspiracy is here. Tonight Buffalo is filled literally to overflowing with agents of the secret service, many of whom came here today. A search is being made of every sewer that underlies the city, for it is known that in one of them is a package of papers containing the details of the conspiracy and the names of those concerned with Czolgosz in the plot, together with an outline of his ramifications.

In his confession Czolgosz has told of his attempt to kill the President, and of the evidence of the conspiracy. He has said that time did not permit him to burn the papers as he had desired. Czolgosz knew that if he was to meet the President of the United States at the Temple of Music at the Pan-American Exposition he had to be in the Pan-American.

Before leaving his room in Nowak's Hotel, he gathered together all of his papers, taking them from his pockets, from his valises and from the drawers of his table. All were bound together in one package, which he concealed beneath his coat.

Czolgosz says that he made a circuitous and aimless trip about the city, and that at some point, which he cannot now describe, he came upon an open sewer. Into this sewer he cast his papers. Superintendent Bull has asked him to take detectives to the spot, but he has said that he cannot find the sewer, and that the papers will be recovered. But if the search is fruitless it is not at all improbable that Czolgosz can be prevailed upon to reveal the location of the knowledge that is now in his possession.

The information upon which the account in the "Herald" was based came first from a Secret Service agent, and from the same source information has now been obtained that enabled the writer to ascertain the conspiracy extended to the following group of anarchists:

AN ANTI-ANARCHIST BILL.

The Shooting of the President Recalls Proposed Legislation.

Unsuccessful Efforts to Get a Measure Through Congress in 1894. Favored by the Senate, But Defeated in House of Representatives.

The statement of Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana contained in a dispatch from Buffalo that there ought to be legislation against anarchists has recalled to several persons in this city the circumstances that in 1894 an unsuccessful effort was made to pass such a bill against foreign anarchists, and that the measure passed the Senate but failed to pass the House of Representatives.

The measure was introduced by Representative Stutz of Pennsylvania, providing for the inspection of immigrants by consuls abroad. That passed the House of Representatives and came into the possession of the Committee on Immigration of the Senate, and members of which submitted it to the Senate with considerable additions. Subsequently the Senate struck out that part of the bill drawn up by the House of Representatives, and it became a Senate measure directed against foreign anarchists. Ex-Senator David B. Hill, who was Chairman of the Senate Committee on Immigration, warmly favored the bill while it was before his committee and also supported it when it came before the Senate. The bill "to provide for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists," was adopted in the Senate, but failed to pass the House of Representatives. It was as follows:

"Be it enacted, etc., That no alien anarchist shall hereafter be permitted to land at any part of the United States, or be admitted into the United States, but this prohibition shall not be so construed as to prevent the landing and admission of any alien, seeking admission into the United States, who is not an anarchist, as to government, and whether he belongs to any society or association of known anarchistic tendencies; and it may examine any person, and every person, who is an anarchist, or who is suspected of being an anarchist, by pertinent questions, as to his antecedents, his opinions as to government, and whether he belongs to any society or association of known anarchistic tendencies; and it may examine any person, and every person, who is an anarchist, or who is suspected of being an anarchist, by pertinent questions, as to his antecedents, his opinions as to government, and whether he belongs to any society or association of known anarchistic tendencies;
